

The Goal of This Year's Event

Since incorporating in 1984 as a not-for-profit human services agency, ILA has created a "Culture of Caring" within which innovative, person-centered services assist Individuals and their families in achieving an enriched life within the community of their choice.

To open new services, ILA relies upon funding provided by the New York State Office of People With Developmental Disabilities. OPWDD is effective in its support of ILA, for which we are grateful. However, government cannot provide all of the resources necessary to successfully address many of the challenges presented by program development. For a variety of reasons, there are financial shortfalls.

For many years past, ILA has bridged the gap between funding and true costs with money raised by our day of Golf and Games. It is with ILA's great appreciation that as a direct result of the generosity of our Golfers and Gamers, during this past year, ILA opened two new homes in Queens, NY. These homes are now benefitting 8 persons who have aged-out of residential school placements. ILA Golfers and Gamers have made a difference in people's lives.

With the funds raised from this year's event, ILA will endeavor to expand its reach through the development of more homes and services, an achievement that without your help would not be possible. On Behalf of the Individuals we serve, the Board of Directors and the staff of ILA,

Thank You!!!
